Creating Successful Job Placements in Green Jobs –Key Strategies Using Policy and Civic Engagement

Join national industry and college experts as we describe curricular and campus resources available to you to successfully engage in regional energy and sustainability policy efforts. Speakers include:

- An expert from Efficiency First to discuss the industry needs and the policy actions educators and students can take to grow green jobs.
- Debra Rowe will describe specific options and resources for colleges about how to effectively utilize civic engagement in the classroom and in the community to build a more sustainable economy and create more successes for our students.
- Todd Cohen, AACC's SEED lead, will discuss SEED's green policy action community and ways to get involved
