FORMATTING GUIDELINES

Margins: no less than 1" and no greater than 1.5".

Font: The recommended typeface is something readable, such as Times New Roman or Arial. Use 11-12 pt. font.

Spacing: Double-space the paper, with the following exceptions:

- Single-space block quotations, table titles, and figure captions.
- Single-space notes and bibliography entries, but double space between entries.

Title Pages: If you use a title page, the title should be centered a third of the way down the page, and your name, class information, and date should follow several lines later.

When subtitles apply, end the title with a colon and place the subtitle on the line below the title. If you do not have a title page, include the title, your name, class information, and date, centered and double spaced at the top of the page. The title should be bold and in a larger font.

The image shows two side-by-side examples of document formatting. The left example, titled "Title Page Example", shows a title page with the title "A Complicated History of Hate: The South Rises Again in the 21st Century" centered. Below the title, the author's name "Stephanie Derrell", the course "Hist 342: History of the Southern States of America", and the date "March 8, 2021" are centered. The right example, titled "No Title Page Example", shows the same title and subtitle centered at the top. Below the subtitle, the author's name "Stephanie Derrell", the course "Hist 342: History of the Southern States of America", and the date "March 8, 2021" are centered. Below this information, the text "The text starts here..." is centered.

Sections: Longer papers may require sections or subheadings. Chicago allows you to devise your own format but be consistent. Put an extra line space before and after subheads, and avoid ending subheads with periods.

CITING SOURCES

What is a citation? If you use words or ideas that are not your own, you must cite (or state) where you found this information. To help your reader find information quickly, your sources must follow a specific citation system. Failure to cite sources correctly can lead to plagiarism.

Chicago-style source citations come in two varieties or systems:

1. Author-date and references or works cited (used in the sciences and social sciences)
2. Footnotes or endnotes and bibliography (used in humanities such as literature, history, and the arts)

Different instructors may have different requirements. Students should check with their instructors about their preferred documentation style for specific courses.

AUTHOR–DATE SYSTEM (SCIENCES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES)

The author-date system is used more commonly in the sciences and social sciences, such as biology, geology, and economics. This system includes:

- In-text parenthetical citations: Sources are briefly cited in the text, usually in parentheses, by author’s last name and year of publication.
- References or Works Cited: Each parenthetical citation matches up with an entry in the References or Works Cited list, where full bibliographic information is provided.

IN-TEXT PARENTHETICAL CITATIONS FAQs

- Where do I put in-text parenthetical citations in the text? A parenthetical citation immediately follows quotes or cited material. It includes only the last name of the author(s) and the year of publication with no internal punctuation. If the citation is to a direct quotation, the parenthetical note may also include a comma just after the year, followed by a page number or other locator. The end punctuation of a sentence generally goes AFTER the parenthetical.
- What if my source has more than three authors? For up to three authors, all authors’ last names are included in the citation. For four or more authors, the first author’s last name is included, followed by et. al. and the year of publication.
- How do I cite works by the same author in a sentence? To cite additional works by the same author, do not repeat the author’s name; simply separate the years with a comma.
- How do I cite multiple works by different authors in one sentence? Multiple references may be included in a single parenthetical citation. They should be separated by semicolons and may be ordered either alphabetically or chronologically as long as the ordering is consistent throughout the work.

REFERENCES OR WORKS CITED LIST FAQs

- Where does the References or Works Cited list go? The source entries appear on a separate page at the end of the work and is titled References or Works Cited.

WRITING CENTER

Chicago Manual of Style (CMS) Turabian Style

- How are entries formatted? Each entry begins on a new line and is formatted with a hanging indent (first line is flush with the left margin, subsequent lines are indented five spaces).
- What is included in an entry? Entries include full publication information with the year immediately following the author's name. City of publication should always be given; state, province, or country should be added if there are multiple citations with the same name. If the city is well known or the publisher name includes the state, the state abbreviation is not necessary.
- How do I format titles? Titles of works are capitalized headline-style, which means the first word and important words are capitalized. Titles of complete, self-contained works such as books and journals are italicized. Titles of shorter works inside the self-contained works such as articles and chapters are in quotation marks.
- How do I format authors' names? Authors' names should match how they appear on the title page of the work or at the head of the article or chapter. Only the first author's name is inverted.
- How do I list entries? Reference entries are alphabetized by the author's last name. Multiple entries for the same year are differentiated by the addition of a, b, etc. to the year of publication. Multiple entries by the same author or team of authors are organized by date of publication, from earliest to latest. After the first entry, the author's name is replaced by a 3-em dash:

IN-TEXT PARENTHETICAL EXAMPLE, WITH CORRESPONDING REFERENCE OR WORKS CITED ENTRIES

The Beck Depression Inventory-II (BDI-II) has been widely used as a self-report instrument (Hersen 2004), although it was not intended to be used in this way (Piotrowski 1996).

NOTES AND BIBLIOGRAPHY SYSTEM (HUMANITIES)

The notes and bibliography system is preferred by many working in the humanities, such as literature, history, and the arts. The sources are cited in either numbered footnotes (at the bottom of the page) or endnotes (at the end of the essay), but not both. In Microsoft Word, the “insert footnote” or “insert endnote” tool in the references tab helps keep notes numbered and organized.

- Notes: The notes and bibliography system provides citation information in either footnotes or endnotes, which may be supplemented by a bibliography.
- Bibliography: When a bibliography is used, notes may use a shortened citation, giving only enough information (typically the author’s last name, shortened title, and locator information, such as a page or chapter number if necessary) to point readers to the corresponding entry in the bibliography. When no bibliography is given, the notes must include full citation information at the first mention of the work, with shorten citation allowed thereafter.

NOTES FAQs

- What goes in a note and how is it formatted? In the footnote or endnote, the elements are separated by commas. Publication information is enclosed in parentheses, and the author's name is not inverted. The note ends with a period.
- How to I format note numbers in the text? In the text, the corresponding note number is superscripted.
- Where do the notes in the text go? Note numbers appear at the end of the sentence or clause. They follow all punctuation except the dash, which they precede. Except in rare cases, note numbers generally follow closing parentheses.
- What else can go in notes? Notes may also be used to provide additional commentary or peripheral discussion, but such substantive notes should be carefully regulated to avoid overloading the text.

Chicago Manual of Style (CMS) Turabian Style

BIBLIOGRAPHY

- Where does a Bibliography go? The source entries appear on a separate page at the end of the work and is typically titled Bibliography.
- What is in an entry? Entries include full publication information. City of publication should always be given; state, province, or country should be added if there are multiple citations with the same name. If the city is well known or the publisher name includes the state, the state abbreviation is not necessary. The date appears either at the end of the entry or near the end, depending on the type of source.
- How are entries formatted? The elements of each entry are separated by periods, and publication information is not in parentheses. Organization of the bibliography follows the same rules as the reference list in the author-date system, including the use of the 3-em dash to replace author's names when there are several entries by the same author.

FOOTNOTE EXAMPLE

On first reference, include the source information at the bottom of the page as a footnote.	The Beck Depression Inventory-II (BDI-II) has been widely used as a self-report instrument,<sup>1</sup> although it was not intended to be used in this way.<sup>2</sup> <ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. Chris Piotrowski, "Use of the Beck Depression Inventory in Clinical Practice," Psychological Reports 79, (1996): 873.</li></ol>	When using a source in an essay, include a superscript number after the material used.
